

From School to Opportunity

Then immediately underneath:

Good Kenyan equips young people with the skills, mentorship, and pathways they need to move from education into Work or Entrepreneurship.

Who We Are

Good Kenyan Foundation is a Kenyan-led organization serving youth, with a proven record of helping young people bridge the gap between school and opportunity. We work with youth aged 18 to 24 from low-income rural communities and Nairobi's informal settlements, particularly vulnerable young women, guiding them from uncertainty after high school into clear, practical pathways toward work, business, or further education, with a strong focus on the creative economy.

Alongside this, our Daraja program works upstream with girls aged 14 to 17 at risk of dropping out, supporting them through high school with mentorship and life skills so they complete their education and leave with a plan.

Our Mission

To grow the potential of Kenya's youth by providing skills, mentorship, and tools that enable them to build sustainable livelihoods.

Our Vision

A Kenya where youth creativity drives meaningful work and sustainable livelihoods.

The Problem We're Solving

The Transition Trap

- 1M+ students complete high school in Kenya every year; only ~50% secure placement in a public college or university.
- Broader youth NEET and underemployment measures range as high as 35 to 67% for ages 15 to 34.
- Most youth in low-income rural and informal urban communities are trapped in survival work and petty trade.

The Untapped Opportunity

- Kenya's Orange (Creative) Economy contributes nearly 5% of GDP yet just 0.25% of wage employment.
 - The MICE, digital, and circular economy sectors offer accessible, talent-based livelihoods, yet few structured pathways exist.

We Believe

IF vulnerable youth engage in a holistic, gender responsive programme that builds individualised career plans, digital skills, life skills, and self-awareness; AND IF they receive 6 to 18 months of sustained, staged support: structured mentorship, career exposure, market and employer connections, and facilitated pathways into education, employment, or entrepreneurship, while families and communities embrace their participation, THEN they build the confidence, skills, and networks to transition into their chosen pathway and begin earning, SO THAT over time they lead sustainable, dignified livelihoods with greater control over their economic, health, and life decisions.

From Uncertainty to Income

The Discover, Develop, Launch Model

We guide young people through three interconnected stages, not as isolated programs, but as a single, structured journey from self-discovery to economic participation.

DISCOVER Msingi • Foundation (6 Weeks)

Participants build self-awareness, clarity, and the digital foundations needed to make informed decisions about their futures.

→ Exit: Certificate in Digital Skills + a clear individual direction

STAGE 2 DEVELOP Imarisha • Training (6 Months)

Participants enter focused technical pathways designed with industry to build market-relevant skills for the creative and service economy.

→ Exit: Industry-verified skills + employer relationships

STAGE 3 LAUNCH Stawi • Work & Enterprise (1 Year)

Participants gain paid work experience through Stawi Enterprises, transitioning into employment or supported entrepreneurship with continued alumni support.

→ Exit: Three pathways: employment, entrepreneurship, or higher education

Our alumni run micro enterprises, hold roles in the creative and service sectors, and study on scholarship. Parents and guardians take part alongside their students, so support continues at home.

Stawi Enterprises

Stawi Enterprises is the commercial arm of our model. Not a side venture: it is how we give young people paid work with real clients, and how we carry a growing share of our own costs rather than starting every year from zero. When you buy from us, you are buying good work and funding a livelihood.

Good Studio. Creative, events and circular economy studio. Event planning and staffing, decor and styling, branding and design, custom packaging, corporate gifting, and a decor range made from reclaimed materials.

Good Connect. Business support hub. Call centre services, customer experience support and back office operations.

Good Studio

Events, design and products with a traceable story

Good Studio delivers creative and event work for corporate, NGO, and private clients. Every brief is delivered by trainees working alongside experienced practitioners, so the work is professional and the training is real.

What we do

- Event planning, staffing and coordination
- Event decor, styling and set production
- Branding, graphic design and print
- Custom packaging and corporate gifting
- Screen printing, heat press, vinyl cutting and finishing
- A decor range made from reclaimed wood, fabric offcuts, glass, metal and packaging waste

Why buyers choose us

Materials sourced from partner businesses and local markets are diverted from landfill and turned into a retail and events range. That creates green livelihoods and gives you a product whose impact traces back to a named producer. Every item carries a producer profit share.

Good Connect

Customer experience delivered by a trained Kenyan team

Good Connect combines a training lab with a commercial call centre, making it the most direct route in our model from training into salaried work.

Services

- Inbound and outbound call centre
- Customer experience and support desk
- Back office operations and data processing

Why work with us

Agents complete structured systems training before live deployment and work under supervision. Capacity is activated in line with signed contracts, so we scale with you rather than promising a bench we do not have.
